

Sensory Scientific Exhibition & Discovery Day

Building Blocks of Life

Single Molecule Science invites members of the blind and low vision community to experience the wonders of scientific discovery using shapes, textures, movement and sounds

A free public event including:

- 'Infection and Immunity' seminar by Professor Jamie Rossjohn of Monash Biomedicine Discovery Institute
- A series of breakout sessions with hands-on activities, tactile displays, sculptures, and 3-D & kinetic models
- Artwork by Dr Erica Tandori, a legally blind artist
- Lunch for attendees

Tuesday 11 December 2018
10 am – 2.30 pm
University of New South Wales

Ground Floor
Wallace Wurth Building
Corner Botany & High Streets
Kensington Campus
UNSW Sydney NSW

Registrations essential at:
<https://bit.ly/2DXIFGx>

For more details contact sue.liu@unsw.edu.au

sms.unsw.edu.au

This event is proudly supported by the UNSW Disability Innovation Institute

Accessibility:

- You are welcome to bring your guide dog with you
- You may wish to attend with a carer, family member or friend to optimise your experience in the various group activities. Your companion should complete a separate registration form
- Accessibility Ambassadors & volunteers will be present on the day for assistance

Parking and transport:

UNSW is accessible by several bus routes, including the 891 express bus from Central Station. The nearest bus stops for this event are on High St or Botany St. Parking is available at the parking station off Botany Street, at Gate 11. Parking fees do apply. There is also limited free on-street parking on nearby street.

UNSW
SYDNEY

